

All

All

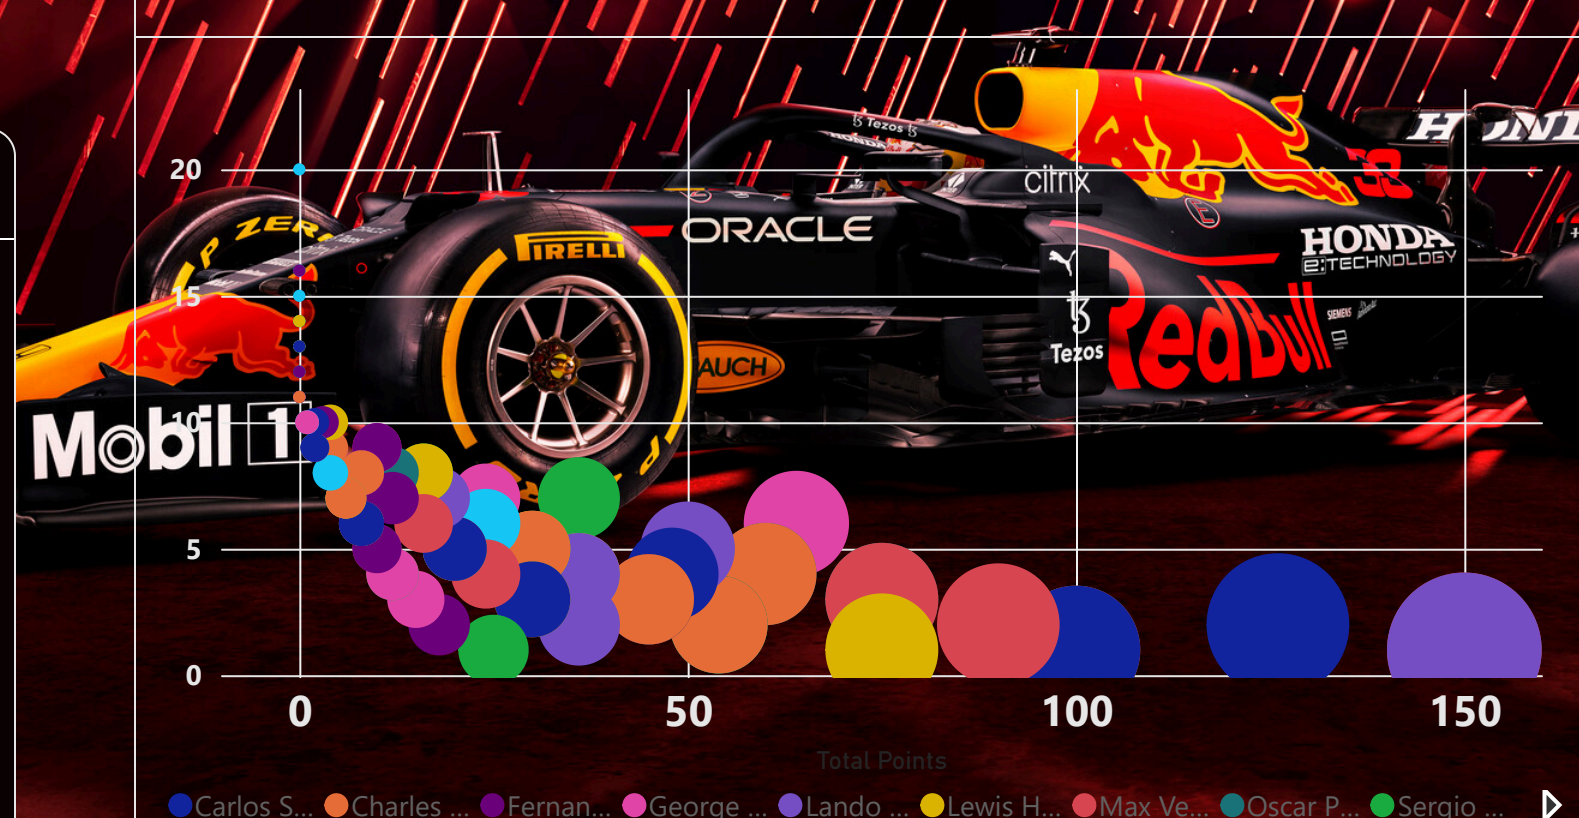

All

Finish by Drivers

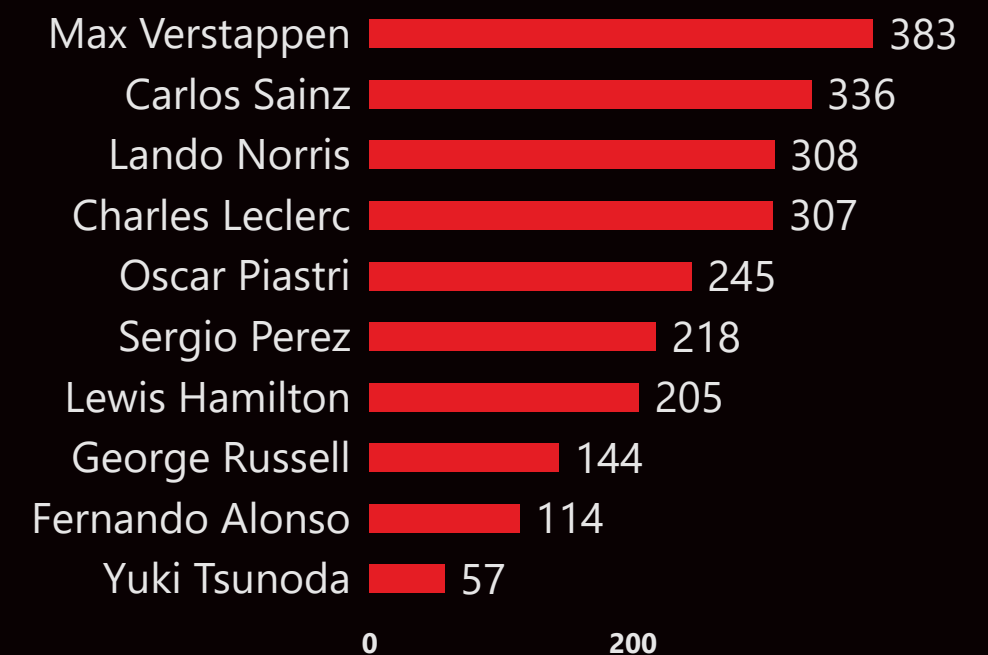

Grid Position vs Finish Position

Faster Together

Drivers Points (Top 10)

Driver_Name

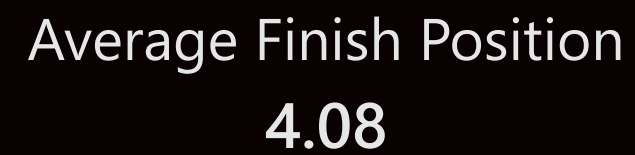

Carlos Sainz

Team

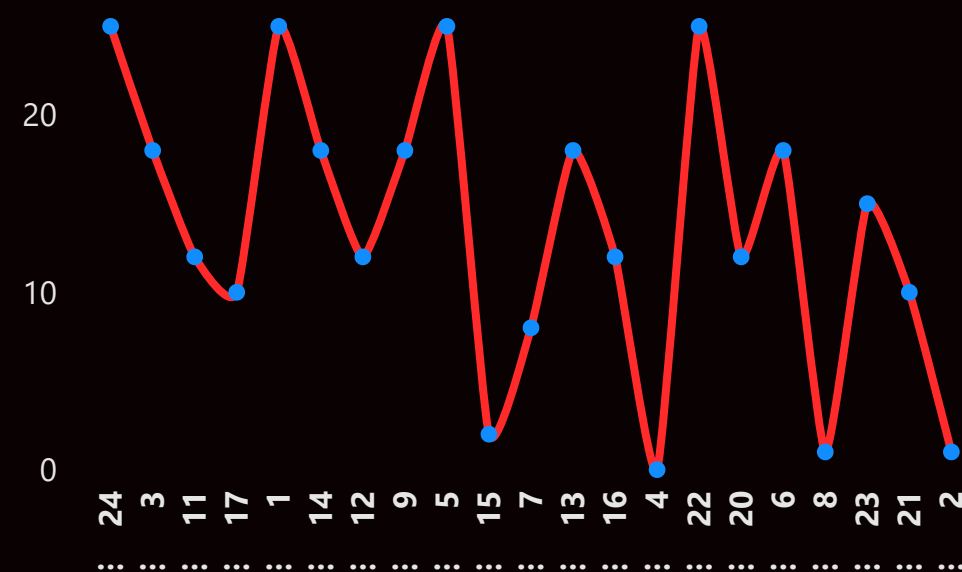

All

Grand_Prix

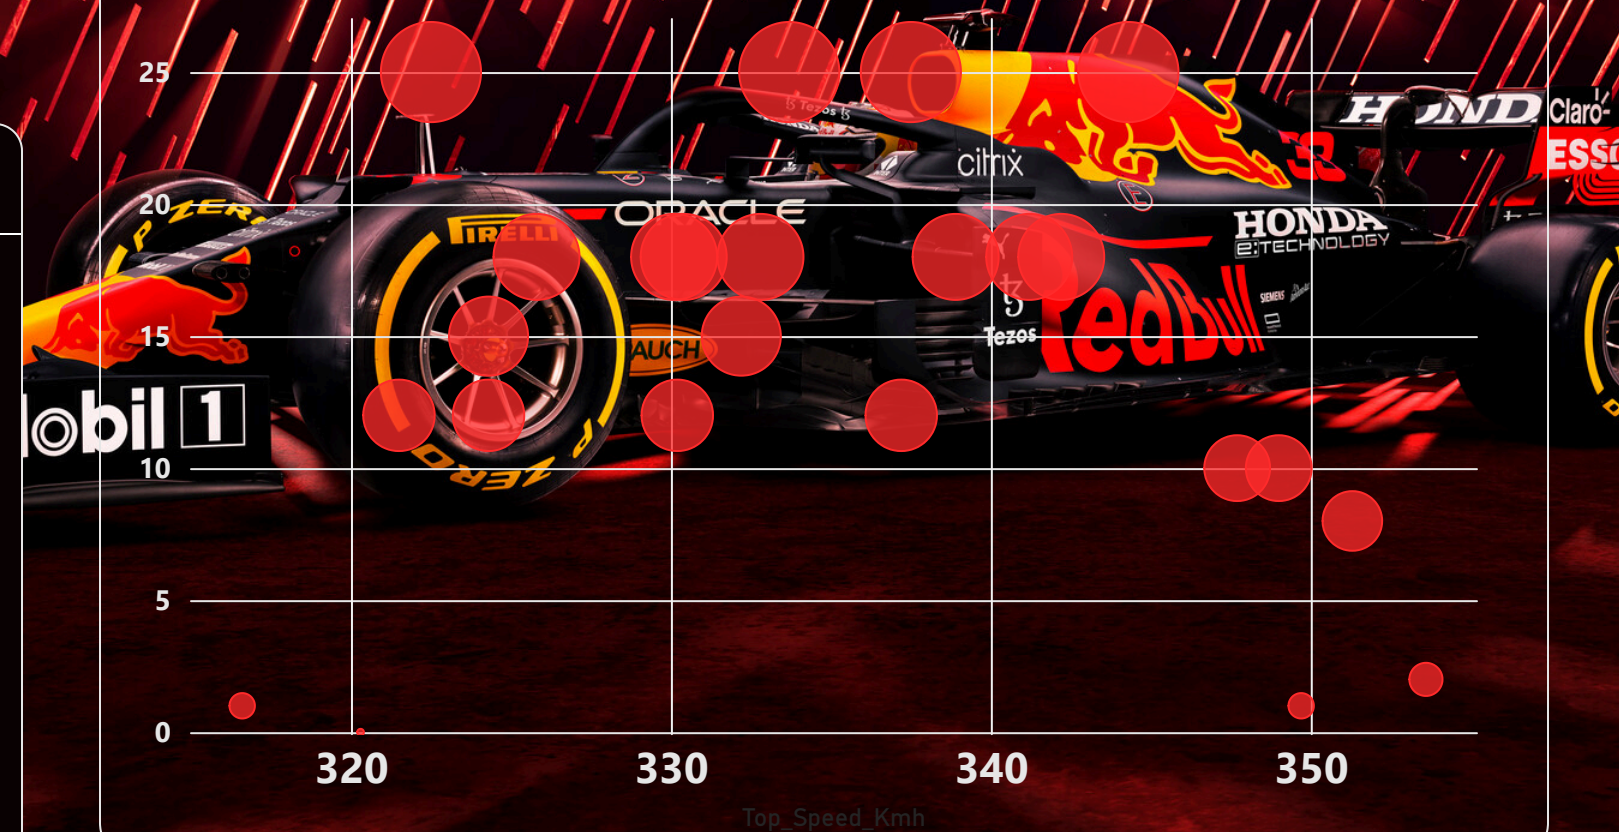

All

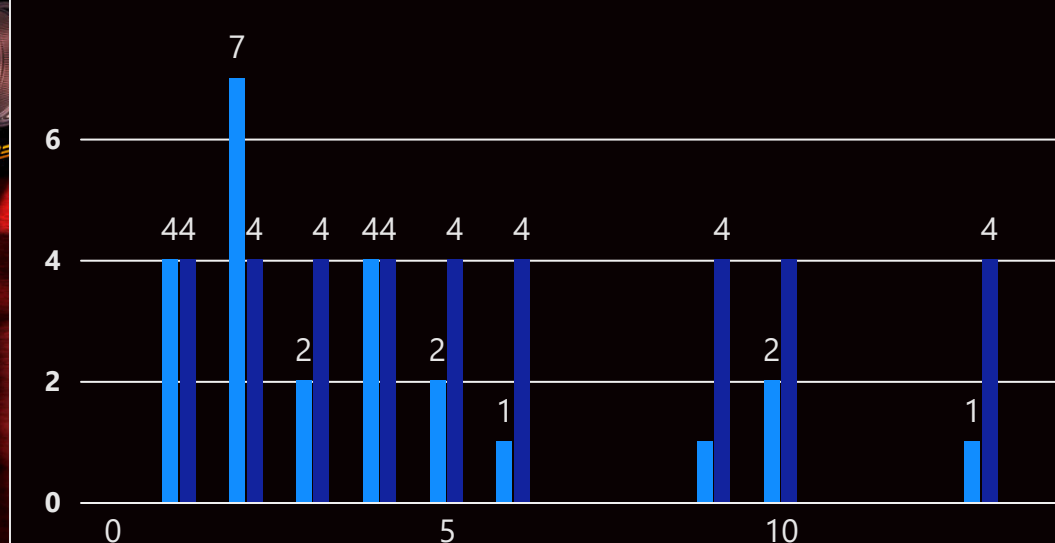

Points by Race

Top Speed vs Time

Position Results

*Faster
Together*

Grand Prix

All

Circuit_Name

All

Country

All

First Fastest Lap Time

1:18.1

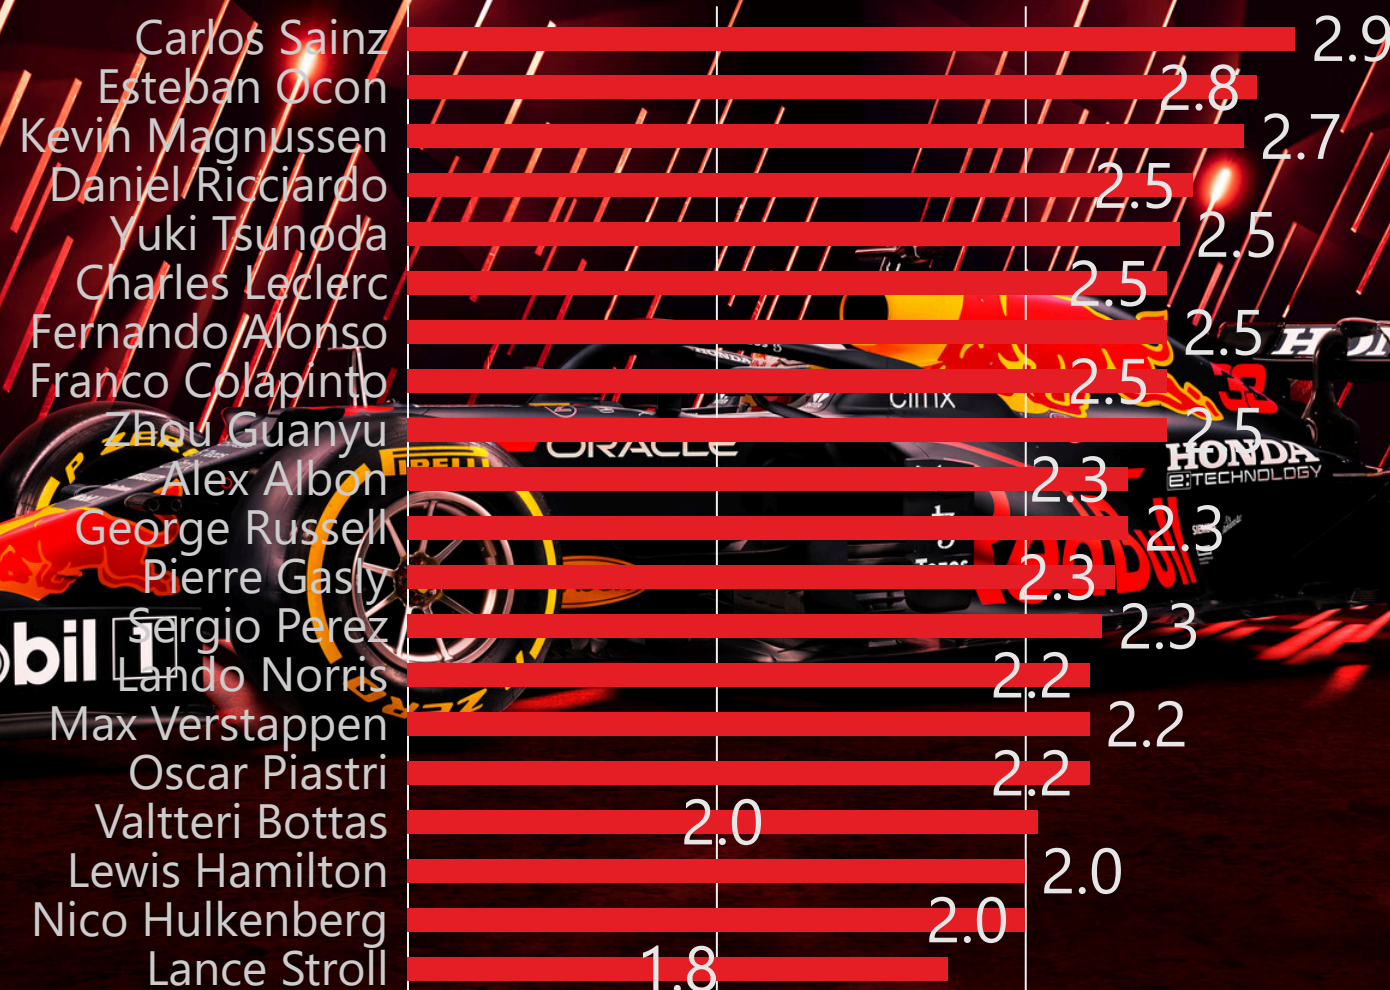

Top Speed Km/ph

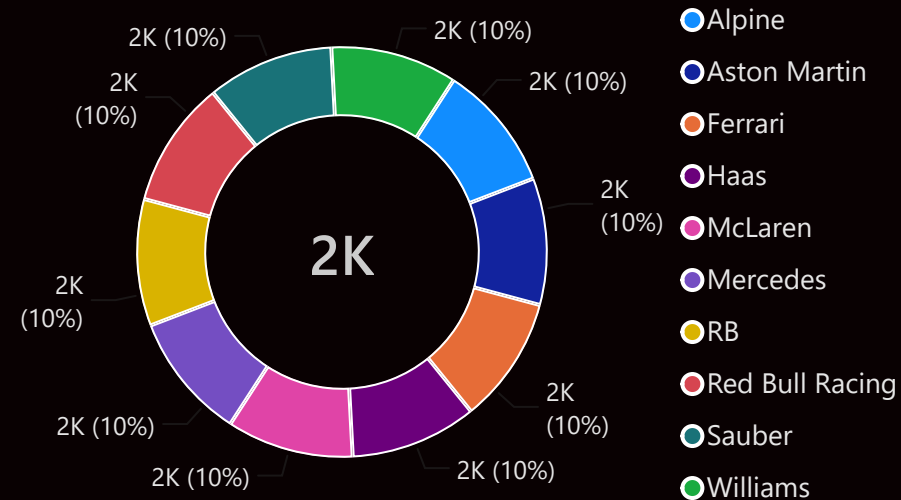

354.90

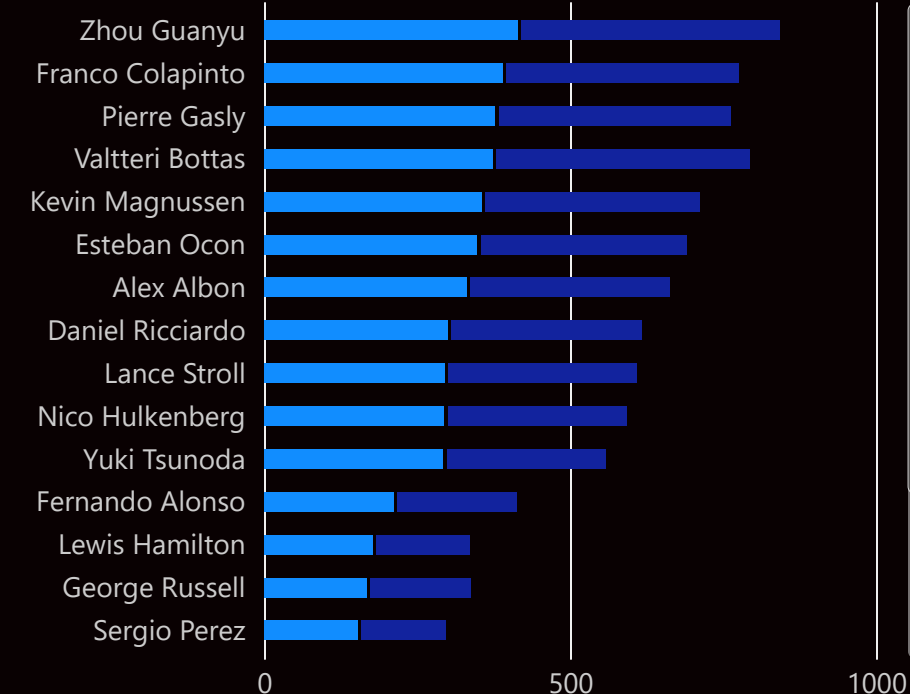

Pit Stops By Drivers

Points Distribution

Points Distribution

*Faster
Together*

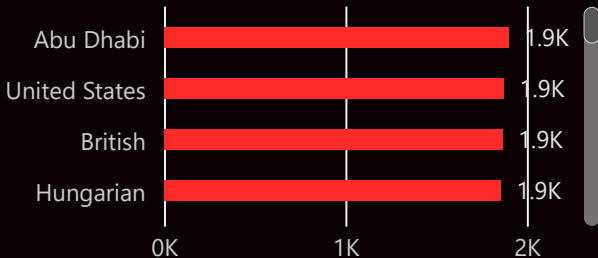

Points

2K

Avg. Finish...

10.50

Fastest Lap in Grand Prix

Driver Name

Alex Albon

Finish Posit...

5K

Total Points by Grand Prix

Fastest Lap Time
1:18.1

Avg Finish Points
10.50

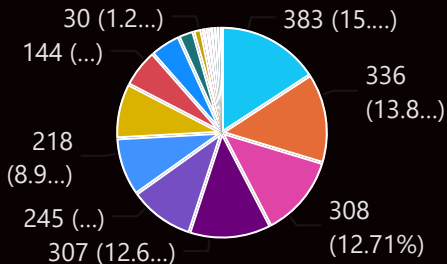

Drivers Contribution in Points

● Max Verst...

● Carlos Sai...

● Lando No...

● Charles Le...

F1 Race Dashboard – Key Insights

- Red Bull remains a major commercial asset
- McLaren is the strongest growth story
- Ferrari has high winning potential but uneven execution
- Mercedes shows signs of recovery
- Driver concentration creates both value and risk
- Reliability is a direct financial and competitive issue
- Midfield teams need stronger conversion strategies
- Position gains reveal strategic and operational strength
- Pit-stop activity should be treated as a cost-performance metric
- Circuit-specific performance creates sponsorship opportunities

Driver-Specific Insights – Headings

- Max Verstappen: Consistent winner and recovery specialist
- Lando Norris: Breakout star with multiple race wins
- Oscar Piastri: High-potential rookie turning into regular scorer
- Charles Leclerc: Fast but inconsistent race execution
- Carlos Sainz: Strong race craft and position-gain specialist
- Lewis Hamilton: Resurgent form with high commercial value
- George Russell: Steady points contributor and team stabilizer
- Sergio Pérez: Occasional winner but inconsistent season
- Fernando Alonso: Midfield leader carrying Aston Martin's results